

Ebru Gökçe Dessemond
Competition and Consumer Policies Branch
UNCTAD

Email: ebru.gokce@unctad.org

Tel: +41 22 9171330

Ebru Gökçe Dessemond is an economist at Competition and Consumer Policies Branch (CCPB) of UNCTAD since 2006. She is responsible for preparing and servicing the annual sessions of Intergovernmental Group of Experts (IGE) on Competition Law and Policy, and IGE on Consumer Protection Law and Policy. She develops and implements technical assistance and capacity building projects for developing countries. In the past, she worked as a project officer for UNCTAD projects for Zimbabwe, Ethiopia and Tanzania, and the Middle East and North Africa region. She conducts research in competition and consumer protection areas, and coordinates UNCTAD Research Partnership Platform. Prior to joining UNCTAD, she worked at the Ministry of Trade of Turkey.

She holds a bachelor's degree in economics from the Middle East Technical University, Ankara, Turkey (1993-1997), and a Master of Arts degree in international relations from Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies (2001-2003).

She speaks Turkish, English, French and Spanish.

Bio Data: - Mrs Elizabeth GACHUIRI,
Economic Affairs Officer
UNCTAD

Mrs Elizabeth Gachuri has a long experience in competition and consumer policies issues both at national and international level. She is currently working as an Economic Affairs Officer in UNCTAD, in the Division on International Trade. She joined UNCTAD in May 2000 as a competition expert to work in the Competition and Consumer Policies Branch of the International Trade Division. Her experience includes extensively working with developing countries in competition and consumer policy projects in Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe, Middle East and Latin America. She significantly contributed to development of competition law and the revision of consumer protection law of Botswana for many years. She has been a project manager for competition programs in Zimbabwe Ethiopia, Tanzania among others for technical assistance projects. She is also the UNCTAD Liaison Officer for the Global Network of Export and Import Banks, and Development Finance Institutions (GNEXID), a network established 10 years ago by the former UN CTAD Secretary General.

Before joining UNCTAD, she worked with Kenya Government in various Ministries as an Economist. She was among the first officers who joined the Kenyan Monopolies and Prices Commission (now Kenya Competition Authority) in 1989 and served in various positions; including as the Head of Mergers and Acquisitions Division and as an Assistant Commissioner.

As a founding staff member of the Monopolies and Prices Commission she was involved in the implementation of competition law and policy in Kenya for 12 years.

Elizabeth has drafted many background papers on competition, consumer protection and their link to trade and development. Developed and delivered training programs for competition Authorities in developing countries under the UNCTAD technical cooperation and capacity building programs. She has been instrumental to preparing and facilitating competition law enforcement, UNCTAD voluntary Peer reviews for many developing countries and organizing round table discussions during the Intergovernmental Group of Experts annual meetings and during the UN Conferences on the review of the UN Set on Competition. She has recently been involved in the work of African Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) on competition and consumer protection matters.

Mrs Gachuri holds a Master of Arts degree in Economic Development from Williams College, Massachusetts, USA. (1992), a Post Graduate Diploma in Economics, Economic Institute, Boulder Colorado, USA. (1991, and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from University of Nairobi, Kenya (1986).